

WHAT THE HELL DID THEY DIE FOR?

At dawn on July 1st 1916, the men of the 36th Ulster Division were amongst thousands of British soldiers who went 'over the top' on the battlefields of the Somme. Their courage and their devotion to their duty will be in every true Ulsterman and woman's memories for all time - they will never be forgotten. Those brave Ulstermen symbolise the courage of British servicemen throughout the history of our nation when British men and women have answered the call and fought and died fighting to defend our sacred British Isles from invasion.

These men and millions like them were told in both World Wars that they were fighting to protect their country, they were told time and time again that they were fighting to stop our country from being invaded. But they were never told that only a few years into the future, all they had fought to protect would be betrayed by cowardly politicians in their positions of power. We can see today that the lives that were sacrificed for King and Country were in all in vain, for official government estimates show that by the year 2060 we the British people will have lost the battle to keep Britain British.

THE BRITISH MINORITY

For in the year 2060 the British people will become a minority in our own country. Why?...Because the present birth-rate in Britain is as follows:

Bangladeshis - 8 children per family
Africans - 3.4 children per family
West Indians - 2 children per family

Pakistanis - 6.1 children per family
Indians - 3.1 children per family
White British - 1.7 children per family

In less than 60 years the indigenous British people will be outnumbered in their own country by the descendants of coloured immigrants. Is this what our forefathers fought and died for? Did the soldiers dying in the Flanders mud and on the beaches of Normandy know they were dying for this? Did the pilots who valiantly fought in the Battle of Britain in 1940 know that their grandchildren would today be second-class citizens in their own country?

CIVIL WAR

Former Ulster Unionist MP Enoch Powell said the British would not give up without a fight. He said there will be Civil War in Britain as the British people see themselves outnumbered by Blacks and Asians.

WHY WE MUST ACT NOW

No-one wants a Civil War and it can be averted. We need not become a minority if we act now. Coloured immigration must be stopped. Coloured immigrants and their descendants at present living in Britain must be returned to their countries of ethnic origin.

THE BRITISH PEOPLE'S PARTY

The British People's Party is the only British political party that advocates stopping coloured immigration and returning the immigrants to their own countries. If you believe in defending Britain then act now. Join the BPP!
